Obvious-type Double Patenting Rejections

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-19 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-42 of U.S. Patent No. 6,692,251. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the patented claims of '251 set forth all the elements of the presently claimed invention – i.e. housing (column 15, line 43), plurality of solid state light emitting dies (column 11, line 44), clear lens layer (patented claim 24) and optically reflective element (column 11, line 49). Merely setting forth those same elements in a slightly different order would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art.

Rejections based on Prior Art

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 13, 14 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shigeru et al (JP 9010238).

Shigeru et al disclose a light instrument for curing dental compounds within a patient's mouth comprised of at least one light emitting element 6 mounted on substrate 2. The LED's 6 have a conventional domed cover (or protective layer) that covers the semi conductor element. The Shigeru et al device further includes an optically reflective element 7 coupled with the LEDs 6 for directing light forward. In regard to the "clear" requirement for the protective layer limitation, all that is reasonably disclosed is the dome shaped layer covering the semiconductor junction, it is noted that Shigeru et al specifically desires that the LEDs emit a particular wavelength (480 micrometers) consequently it would have been obvious to the ordinarily skilled artisan to use a clear dome shaped layer so as to not interfere with the particular wave length desired.

Claim 15 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shigeru et al (JP 9010238) in view of Kennedy (US 5,420,768).

Kennedy teaches the use of a heat sink 15 to draw heat away from an array of LEDs used in a dental curing light so as to keep the LEDs from over heating. To have used a heat sink to draw heat away from the Shigeru et al LEDs 6 in order to keep them from over heating would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art in view of Kennedy.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-12 and 17-19 would be allowable upon the filing of a terminal disclaimer to overcome the obvious-type double patenting rejection above. The present claims are distinctive from rejected claims 13-16 in that they call for a single layer that covers a plurality of light-emitting elements.

Action Made Final

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
